MediSend International is a nonprofit, humanitarian organization supporting under-resourced hospitals in developing countries with a multi-dimensional approach to improving community health. Medisend's mission includes education, training, technical support and management technologies for Biomedical Equipment Repair, as well as the distribution of life-saving medical supplies and biomedical equipment in long-term partnership and emergency relief programs. MediSend develops and manages long-term medical aid programs and emergency-disaster relief campaigns. It is essential to remember that training healthcare professionals is not like providing medical supplies that are used once and gone. Rather, individuals are being given a set of skills they will use for a professional lifetime for the benefit of their communities.
